Security

End-To-End Encryption	AQ Conference technology is completely secure. Session information transmitted between computers is compressed and encrypted to ensure that your sessions are always secure. We use 256-Bit AES and 128-Bit SSL encryption.
User Authentication	Sessions can only be started with a unique user name and password. For each session, we generate a unique random 9-digit session ID that all guests are required to enter.
Optional Session Password	The session organizer is able to specify a unique session password that is only shared with authorized attendees.
Session Privacy	You can hide your taskbar, desktop content, and wallpaper for additional privacy.
Lock Session	You can lock a session when all guests are connected. No additional guests can join after you lock the session.
Disconnect Guests	You can see a list of all connected guests and disconnect guests individually.

How it works

We believe there is no easier way in the world to start and join an online session. After you register for a free trial or buy a license, download and install the AQ Conference software. You can accomplish this in less than two minutes. Then start your first session:

1. Click the  icon in your system tray in the lower right corner of your computer screen and choose Start Session.

2. Ask your guest to go to www.AQ Conference.com, click Join Conference, and enter the Session ID. The connection is established!

Licensing

We offer inexpensive licensing options. You can host an unlimited number of sessions for any duration of time for one low flat fee. Your guests always connect for free. Before you purchase AQ Conference, you should select a product version and a license type and determine the optimal number of licenses. The following explanations will help you make a decision:

Product Versions

We offer five different product versions: (1:1), (1:5), (1:10), (1:15), and (1:20). The product versions differ in the maximum number of participants per session. With the (1:1) version you can invite exactly one person to join your session, with the (1:5) version you can invite up to 5 participants to join your session, with the (1:10) up to 10, with the (1:15) up to 15 and with the (1:20) up to 20 participants. All product versions include the same set of features. Do you plan to conduct online sessions with more than 20 guests? Contact us for special event pricing!

License Types

We offer two different license types: single-user-license and shared-user-license. A user needs a single-user-license in order to start a session. With a single-user-license, you can install the AQ Conference software on one desktop and one notebook computer. Several users either need individual single-user-licenses or a shared-user-license. With a shared-user-license you can install AQ Conference on up to 10 computers within your company and several users can use the AQ Conference software, but only one session at a time. If you want to start several sessions at the same time, you need additional shared-user-licenses. If you decide to buy single-user-licenses, each user will get their own user name. If you decide to buy a shared-user-license, you get one user name that is shared among several people.

Installation Version and Customization

We also offer the possibility to purchase and maintain your own AQ Conference server. In this case, we can also customize the AQ Conference system.
